Mathieu Bourret Soto

Updated May 29, 2024

Bordeaux School of Economics (BSE, University of Bordeaux), office H2-205
16 avenue Léon Duguit, 33608 Pessac CEDEX, France

Personal website | mathieu.bourret@u-bordeaux.fr | ORCID//MBS
ResearchGate//MBS | LinkedIn//MBS | GitHub

Research interests

Development Economics, Political Economics, Conflicts and Violence, Climate Change adaptation.

Education

University of Bordeaux 2022 – Present
PhD in Development Economics on Violence and Fear of Violence at Bordeaux School of Economics (BSE), Bordeaux (France)
Thesis supervisors: Matthieu Clément (BSE) & Éric Rougier (BSE)

University Clermont-Auvergne 2020-2022
MSc in Development Economics, major in Sustainable Development at the School of Economics - CERDI, Clermont-Ferrand (France)
Erasmus Semester in the University of Göttingen, Germany

University of Montpellier 2016 – 2019
BSc in Economics at the Faculty of Economics of Montpellier, Montpellier (France)

On-going work

Legacies of violence: Exploring the Long-Term Consequences of Chile's Dictatorship on Political Engagement and Trust.
Bourret Soto, M.
First thesis chapter, forthcoming submission

Prevalence and factors associated with the adoption of heat-adaptive behaviors among residents of a French southern region.
Guillon, M and Bourret Soto, M.
Submitted to Climatic Change

What drives adaptive behaviors during heatwaves? A systematic review with meta-analysis.
Bourret Soto, M and Guillon, M.
Under revision in Climate Policy

Teaching experience

Teaching assistant, University of Bordeaux Fall 2023
Mathematical Tools & Inferential Statistics
Probability and inferential statistics for third-year undergraduates in economic and social administration.

Teaching assistant, University of Bordeaux Spring 2023
Computer Science
Advanced Excel and introduction to Python for 2nd year undergraduates.

Work experience

Research assistant, University of Montpellier Summer 2022
I was involved in a systematic review and the development of a questionnaire on the determinants of adaptive behaviors during heatwaves under the supervision of Marlène Guillon (MRE, University of Montpellier. Ferdi)
Faculty of Economics of Montpellier

Volunteer, United-Kingdom 2019-2020
I have volunteered on six different organic farms in Scotland and England.
WWOOF UK Association

Conferences and Seminars

Legacies of violence: Exploring the Long-Term Consequences of Chile's Dictatorship on Political Engagement and Trust May 2024

WAPLAC Workshop #1 – San José, Costa Rica

Legacies of violence: Exploring the Long-Term Consequences of Chile's Dictatorship on Political Engagement and Trust January 2024
AFEDEV Doctoral Days: 2024 Edition – Paris, France

Prevalence and factors associated with the adoption of heat-adaptive behaviors among residents of a French southern region December 2023
45th Conference of French Health Economists (JESF) – Bordeaux, France

Legacies of violence: Exploring the Long-Term Consequences of Chile's Dictatorship on Political Engagement and Trust November 2023
BSE Doctoral Seminars – Bordeaux, France

Languages

French (Mother tongue)
English (Proficient)
Spanish (Conversational)